

Low-fidelity Model

Low-fidelity prototypes are generally limited function, limited interaction prototyping efforts. They are constructed to depict concepts, design alternatives, and screen layouts... These prototypes are created to communicate, educate, and inform.

